The Cash In The Plate goes to Diocesan Fund for Flood relief in Copperhill and McCaysville

The towns of Copperhill, Tennessee, and McCaysville, Georgia, experienced the worst flooding in recorded history with over 18 feet of water. The people of the Copper Basin are now living with a new reality today: homes and businesses damaged, a disrupted water supply, and the long, weary work of cleaning up and starting over. The Bishop has set up a fund dedicated to the flooding in Copperhill and McCaysville. Gifts made to this fund will go to families and ministries impacted by the flooding. Every gift, large or small, becomes a concrete act of care. As we saw with Hurricane Helene, you can make a difference in the lives of those affected by flooding. Thank you for your prayers and your generosity.

Donations can be made by sending a check to Good Sam, specifying "Flood Relief" in the memo line, or through Good Sam's online giving portal by scanning the QR code at right.

Last week's offering of $1,229.26 has been designated to go to Wine to Water.
